SPECTRUM '70

sunrise . . .

the day begins, promising new and different experiences.
here they come — the young are entering life;
what lies ahead? where will they go and what will they do?
what will they leave behind?

sunset

this same dawn breeds another feeling — dusk; a day that is no more, a place where time has gone.
the present — a combination of what was and what will be.

crossroads . . .

in this dim brilliance, this beginning and end, together
we are lost in a limbo of past and future;
these two tenses dominate the third.
here our shared, beaten road diverges into many narrow untried paths;
here we see ourselves as individuals in an organism fast becoming a part of our lives — Sun Valley High School enter the young!

Yes, you're right; they still do this dedication thing in yearbooks. Why? Because, for every class that graduates (and writes a yearbook) there is one faculty member who stands out in particular, one man or woman who has had a strong effect on the class.

The Class of 1970 has chosen to acknowledge the guidance and assistance of Mr. Francis Downey. Our adviser for three years, this man has been interested in the class and has given of himself. To refer to Mr. Downey is to draw reference to a part of ourselves, because he has left his mark upon the Class as a unit and as individuals.

From directing class functions to patroling the lunchroom to coaching the basketball teams, Mr. Downey has been with the Class of 1970. He has shared our interests, concerns, and future plans. In this way we, the Senior Class of Sun Valley High School, express our appreciation, by dedicating the 1970 Spectrum to Mr. Francis Downey.

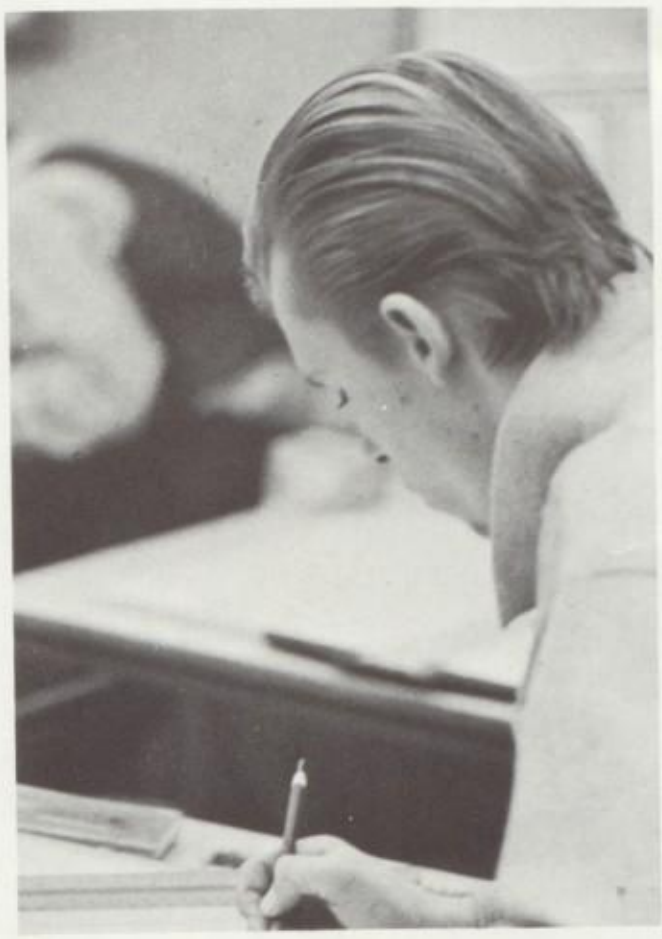
I use Ajax, and I bet my hands are as soft as yours!



1, 2, 3, 4, and where did dot #5 go?

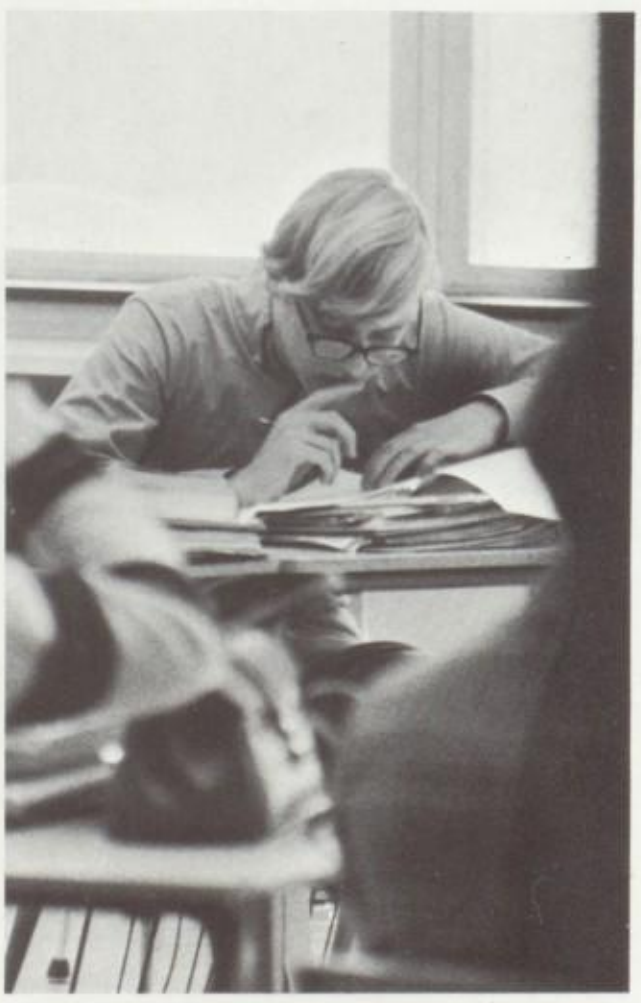
Seniors

Well, here they come; Some with questions, some decisions.

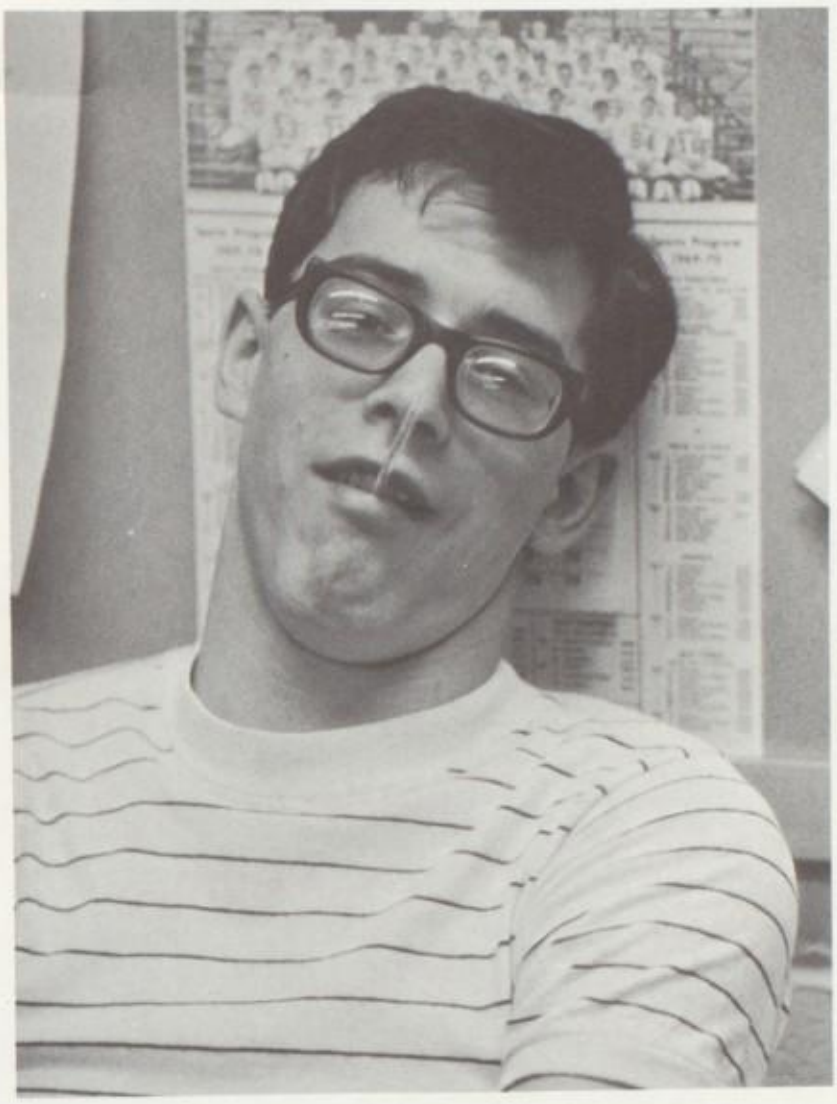
Here they come; Some with acts, some with visions . . .

To win a prize that no one's ever won!

Double, double, toil and trouble! Fire burn and cauldron bubble!

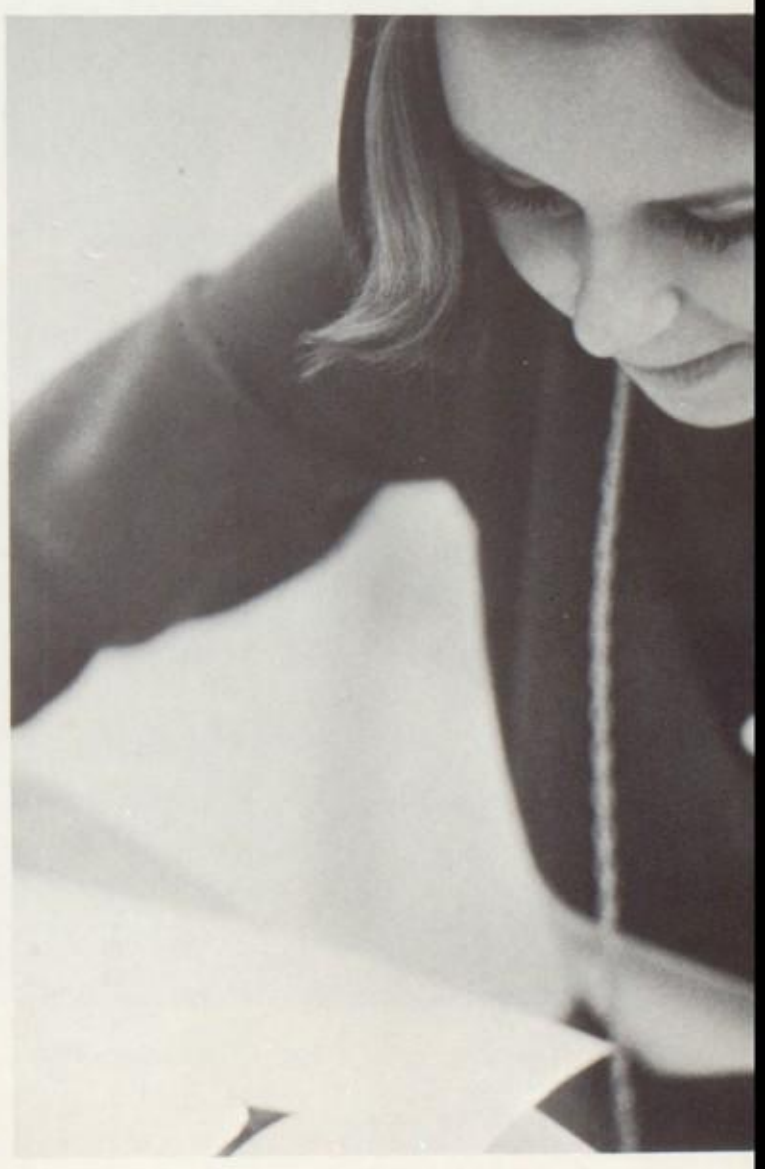


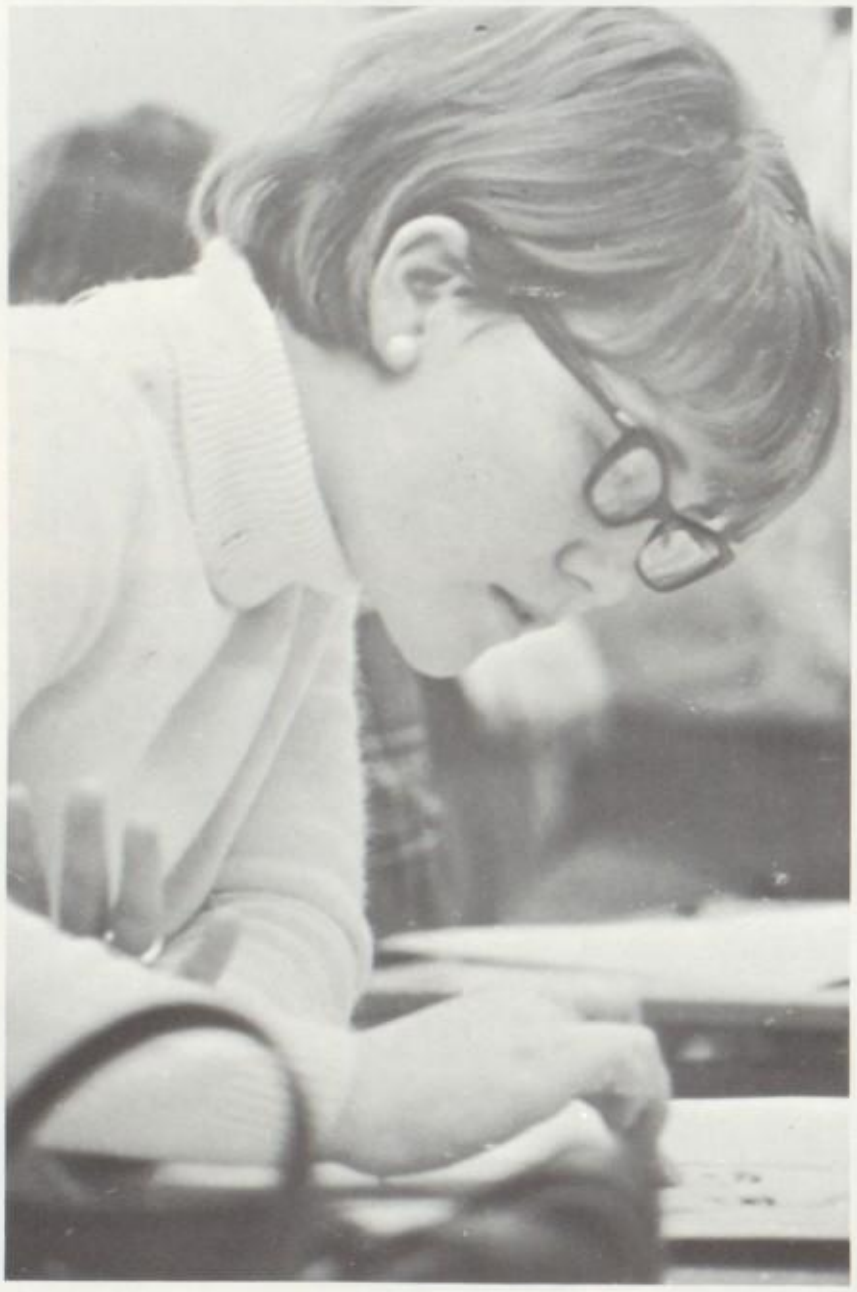
If I run out of fingers to count on, I wonder if I could use my toes?

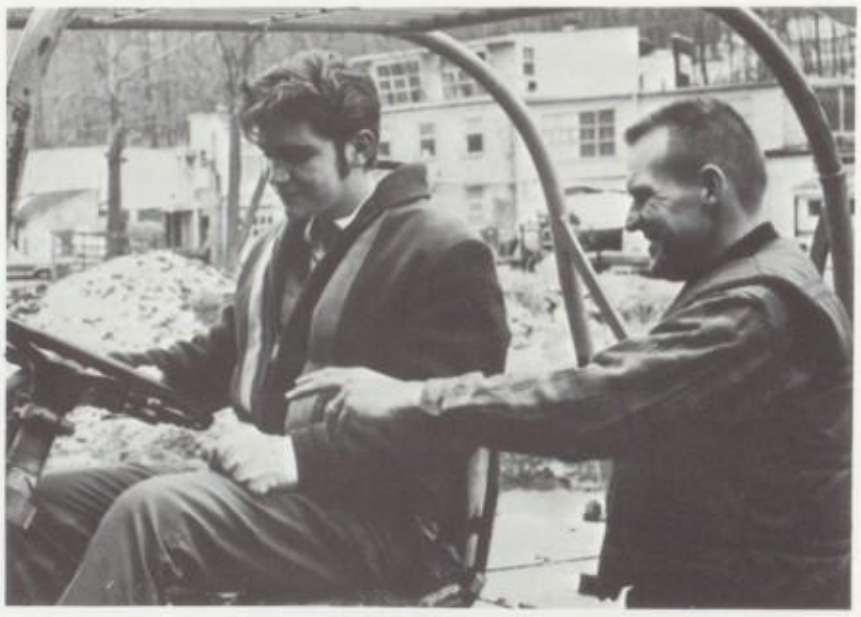


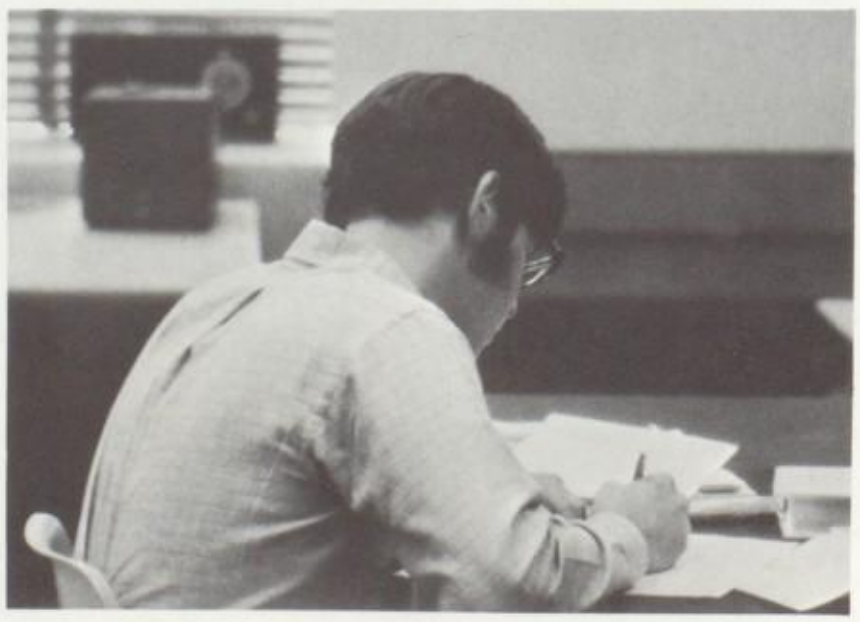
Does it hurt and have a temperature?

There has to be a better way out.









Sorry, the number you have been calling is out of order.

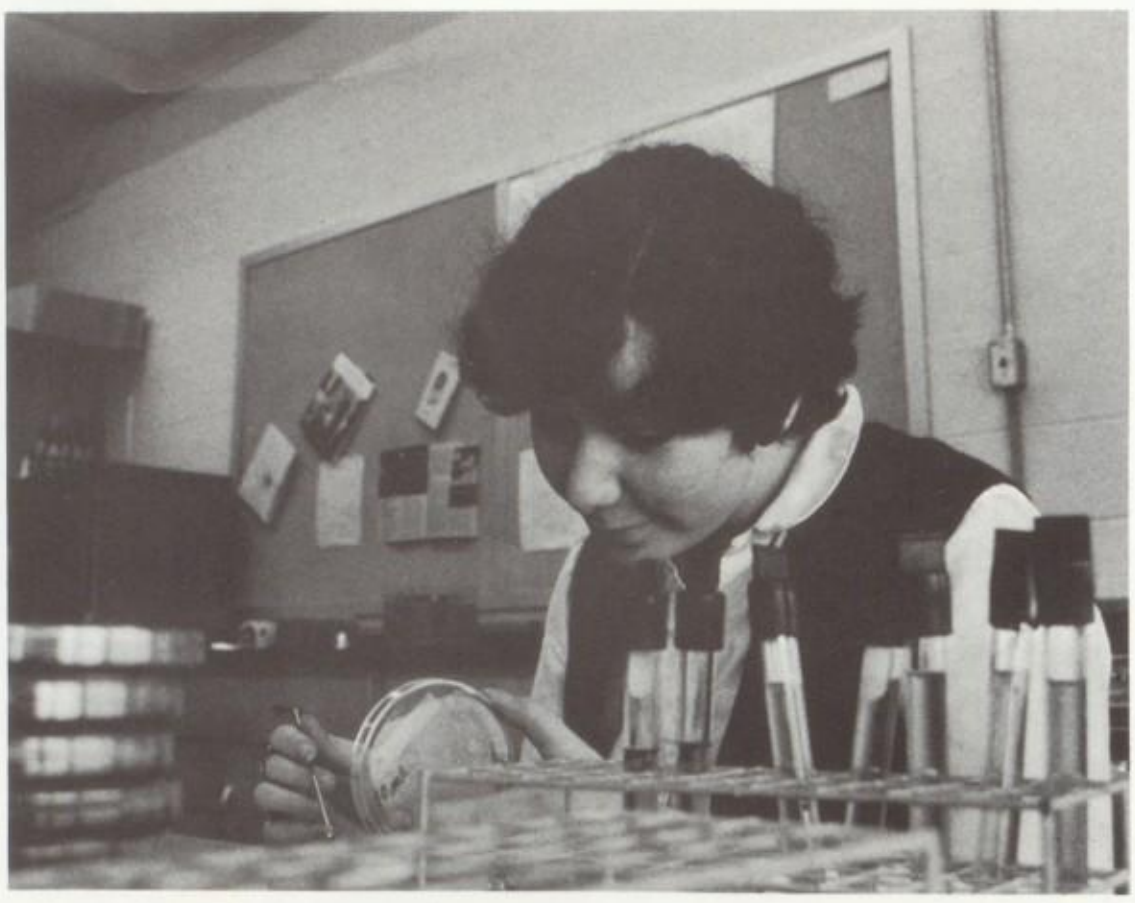
Tuba, tuba, on the wall . . .

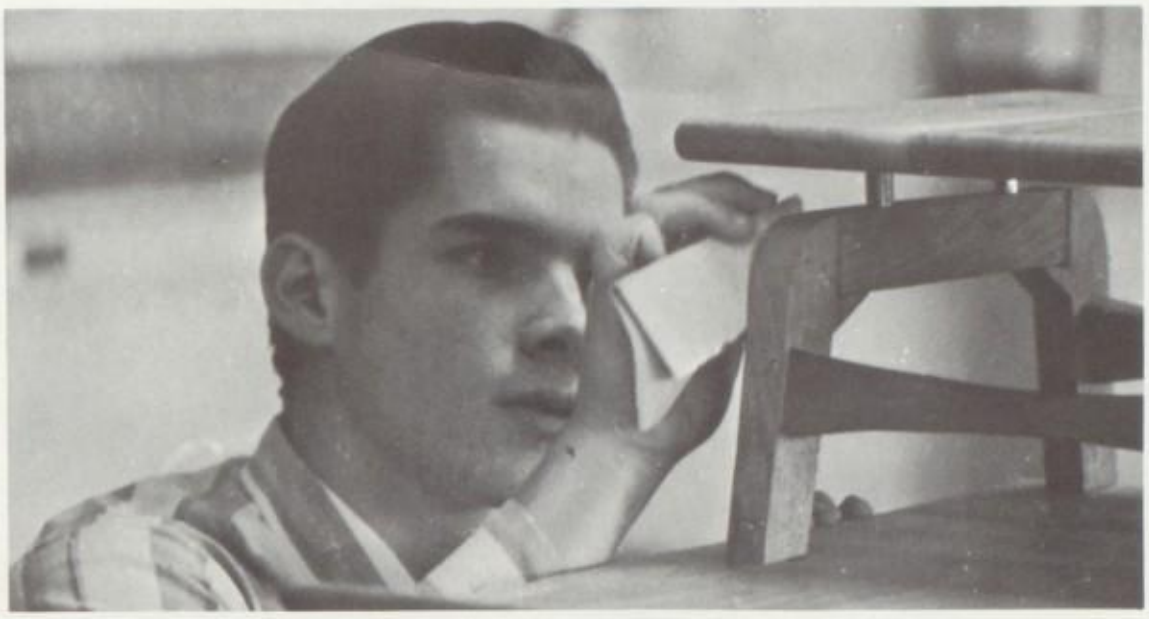
Did Picasso start this way?

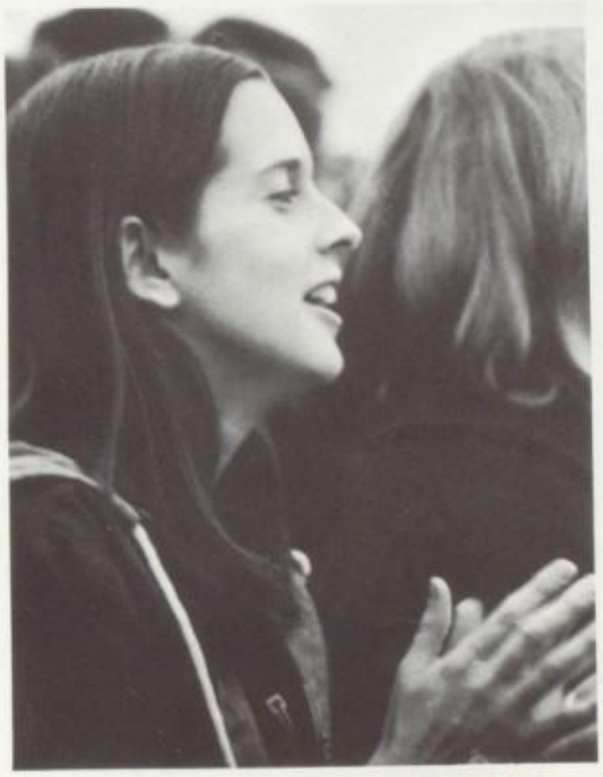
On the sixth day of Christmas . . . six geese!



And how is my little bacteria doing today?

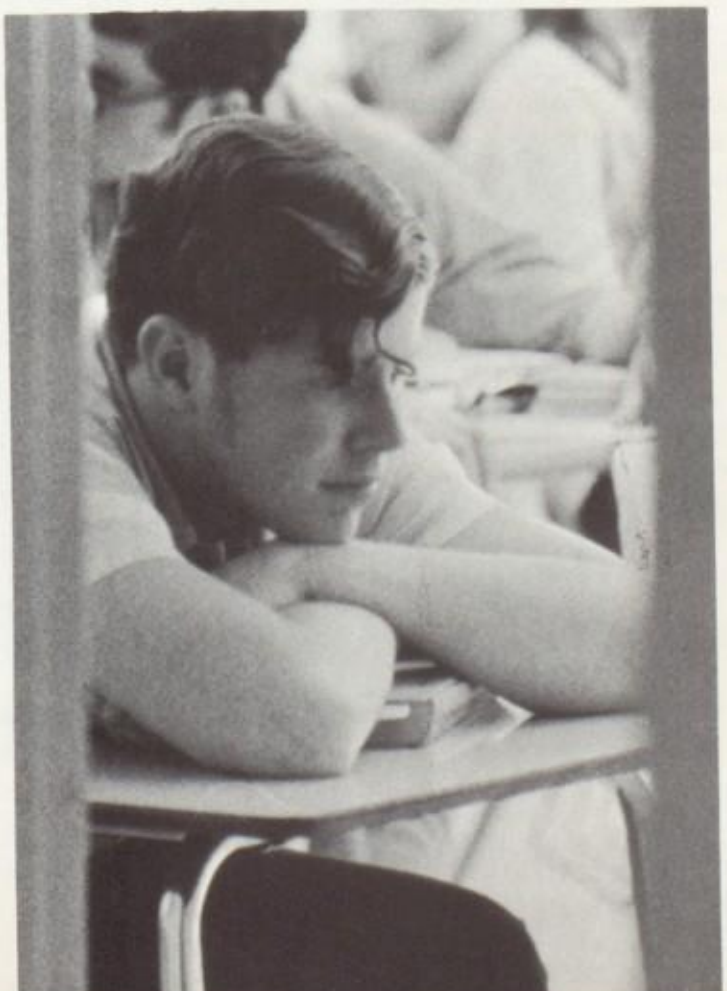
But, I didn't get to the punch line yet!





It goes up . . . and down . . . and back . . . and forth . . .

By the time I get to Phoenix . . .



PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

To my fellow classmates:

"Here they come!" Yes, here we come. The seniors of Sun Valley are starting a new life among new people, new situations, new problems. For us, Sun Valley will soon be a thing of the past, existing only as a memory in the pages of this book or through recollections of the experiences we have shared.

Sun Valley High School has meant different things to different people — to some, it has been a way of life, — to others, the drudgery of having to get an education. I hope that your years at Sun Valley have meant commitment to and involvement in something, whether it was the band, athletics, student government, or some other organization of the school. This is more important than any other aspect of an education — the drive to become involved, the willingness to commit your whole life to something you believe in.

Let us, the members of the class of 1970, carry this spirit of involvement into our separate futures. We must be willing to commit our lives. Perhaps this idea is best expressed in the words of the theme song:

Not only learn to think but to care;
Not only learn to think but to dare.

I hope that this phrase becomes a reality for all of us.

No matter what you do during life, the most important thing is that you are dedicated to it, that it fulfills you as a person and gives you an outlet for all your concern, all your talent, all your hope. Self-fullfillment is the thing. Be ashamed to die until you have found a reason to live.

Sincerely,
Bill Carpenter

Education has no ending, and, as such, knows no boundaries. It is not something that is done for a student or to a student; it is no putting on of robes or pouring in of information. Education is what the student does for himself in the way of developing his own powers.

Teachers can help, so can a curriculum; however, ultimately the problem lies with the students. If a student is to be an educated man, then he must give his best effort to disciplining his mind to the point where it becomes an effective mechanism — knowing full well that the trained mind can be the most powerful instrument in the entire world.

It is my wish that each of you shall attempt to attain the highest ideal of Sun Valley Senior High School — scholastic integrity!

Harry P. Bukpan, Jr.

After three years of learning at Sun Valley High School, it might be well to note that no learning is worth much unless it has left you with a doubt, a reason to seek further, to maintain curiosity. As the Ancients put it, the consciousness of ignorance is the beginning of knowledge.

May you remember this as you begin to actively participate in an uncertain world of incredible change.

Theodore F. Cramer

To quote an old Chinese proverb, "A thousand mile journey starts with one step." In a few days, you as a graduate will step forward and complete that first step. You will have completed twelve years of education to meet this first accomplishment — notice how long it took you to do this. Just as man took his first step on the moon this year, this was by no means a rush job. In comparison, you must pace yourselves to run no faster than you have strength or means. There are some things for which you must be willing to wait; do not be short-sighted in settling for something second best or far inferior when, by more willingness to work and to wait, you could acquire a greater competence and more of the lasting to avoid unwise commitments and extravagances, to invest time and effort in preparation for the future. The surpassing satisfaction of approaching your real potential is more important than speed; more important than insisting on everything right now.

It would be great, in a way, if every person could move directly to his intended objective without delay and disappointment, without any slowing down or setback; but few of us have lived this way and surely we would not, in fact, develop in character if everything were always easy. As Emerson once said, "The future belongs to those who prepare for it."

Underclassmen

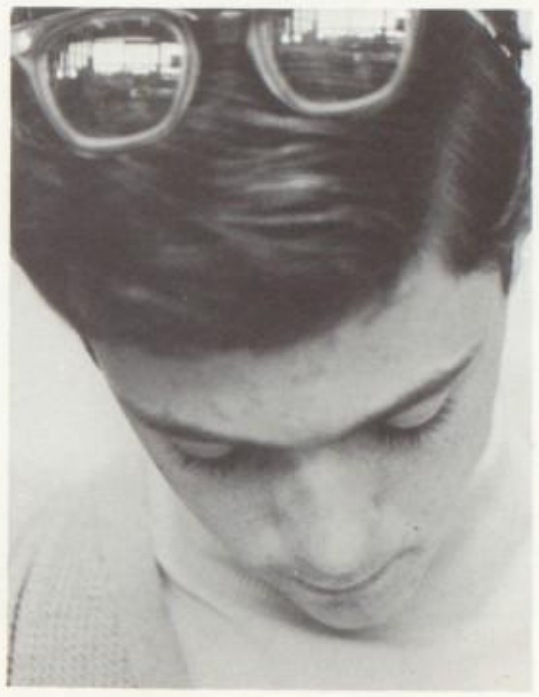
Here they come; Some are walking, some are riding.

Here they come; Some are flying, some just gliding . . .

They're climbing up the ladder, rung by rung!

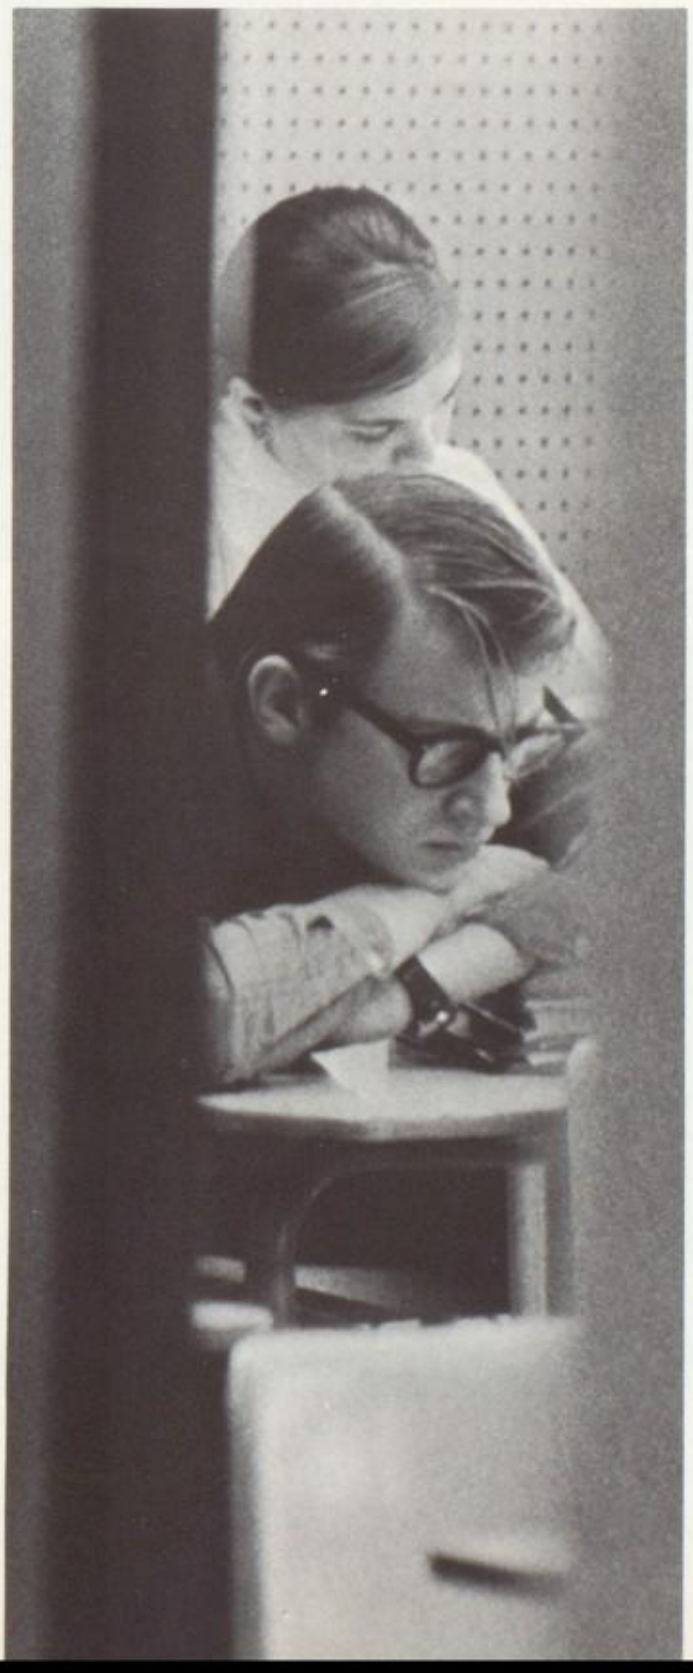
But Harold, we've got to stop meeting like this.

This class is a real cutup.



Oh, just listen to those seniors!

But I don't want an aspirin.



I wonder what they're having for lunch.

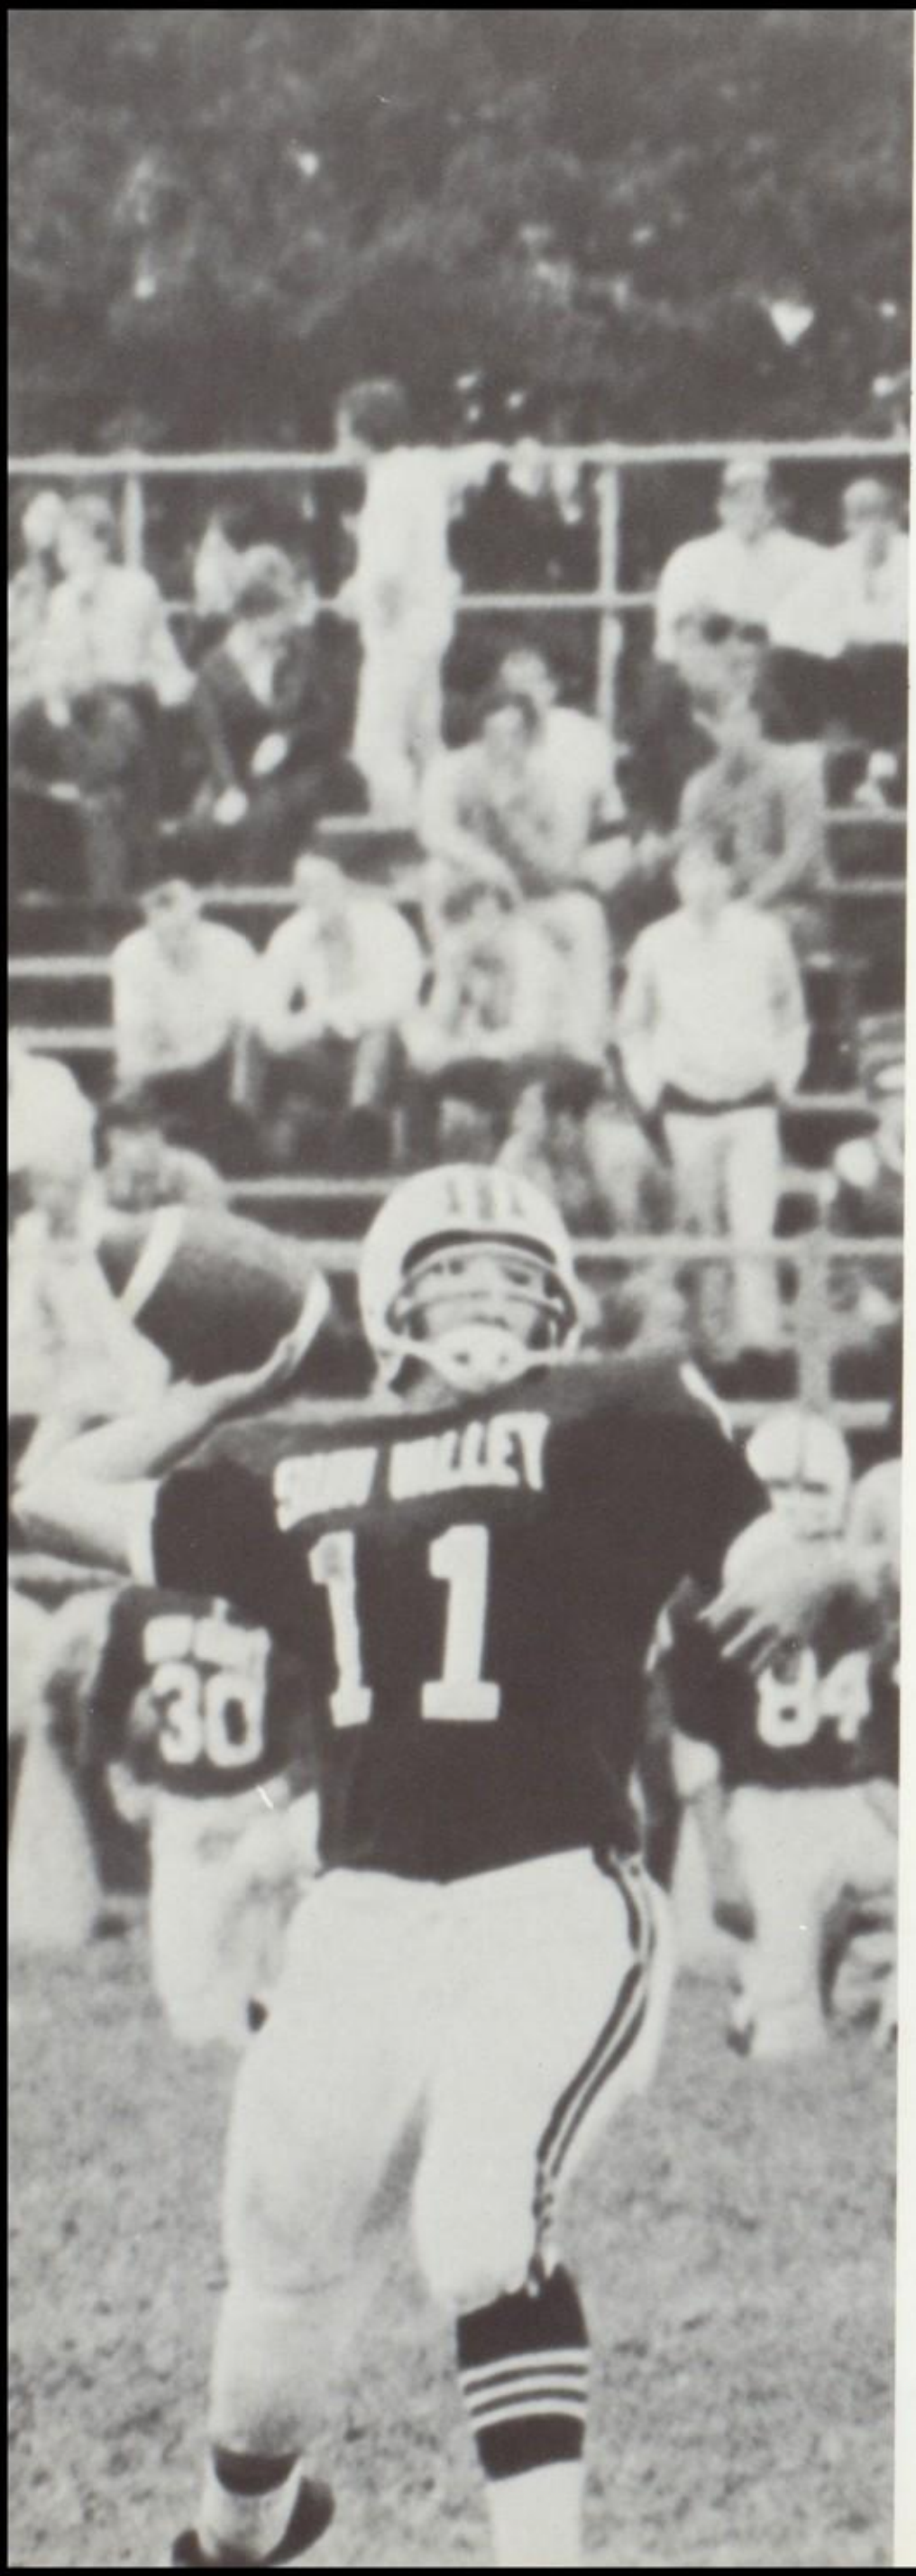
Sports

Here they come; Some are winnin', some are strivin'.

Here they come; They've done something to have pride in . . .

They've showed them all that "We are Number One!"



conflict-physical, mental, emotional . . .
minds and muscles moving, straining against each other;
man against man, team against team; school against school.

this is but the surface! these are but the vestiges of a deeper contest;
struggle within and between people; individually, collectively.
the will to win, the drive toward victory —
this is the feeling, here is the point at which purpose becomes more than carrying a ball over a line or running a little harder.

true athlete commits mind, body, soul to task at hand.
a team together, picture of single effort, common goal.
spectators bridge the gap between screaming —
"We're Number One!" — and knowing it's true.
the game, more than a game, takes on a look of life itself.

this life moment, this point in time . . .
ecstasy of total concern and involvement
for athlete, team, school.
sports.

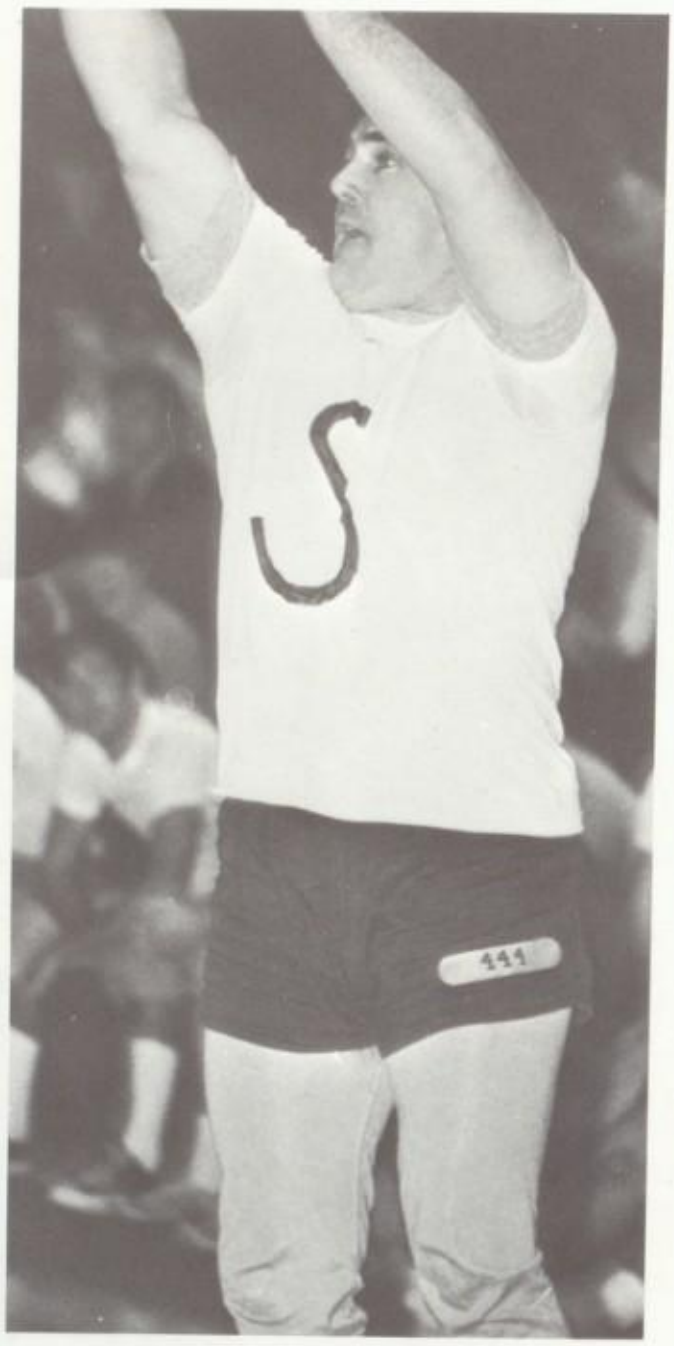
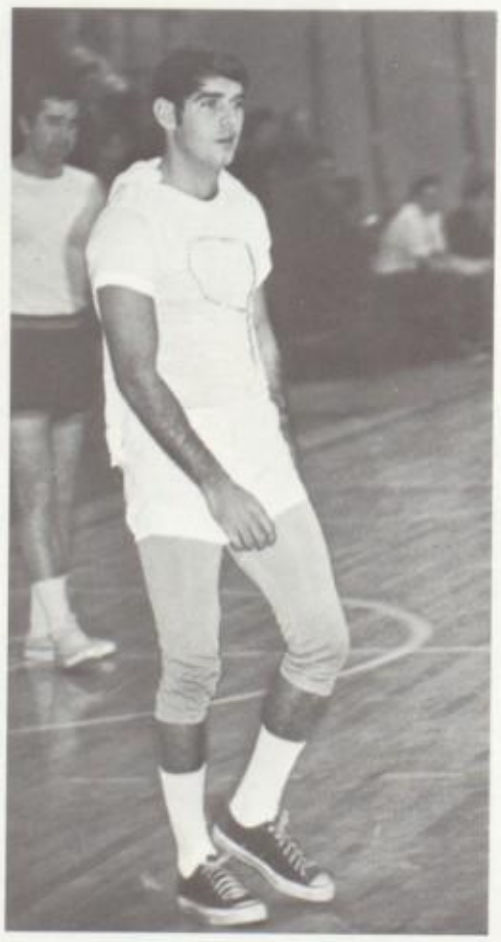
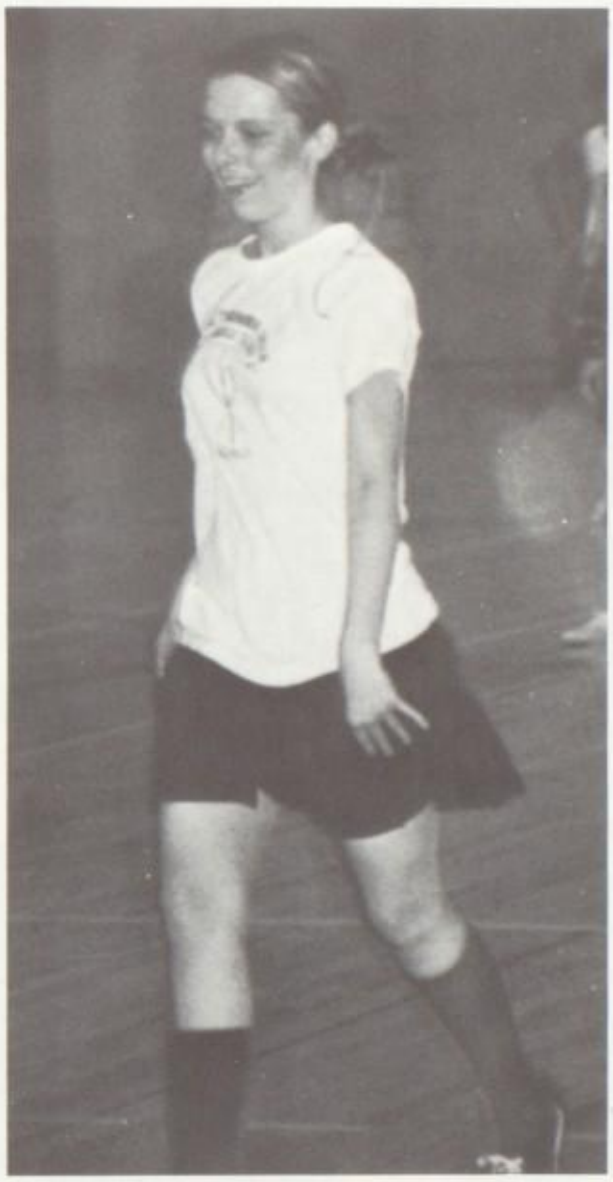
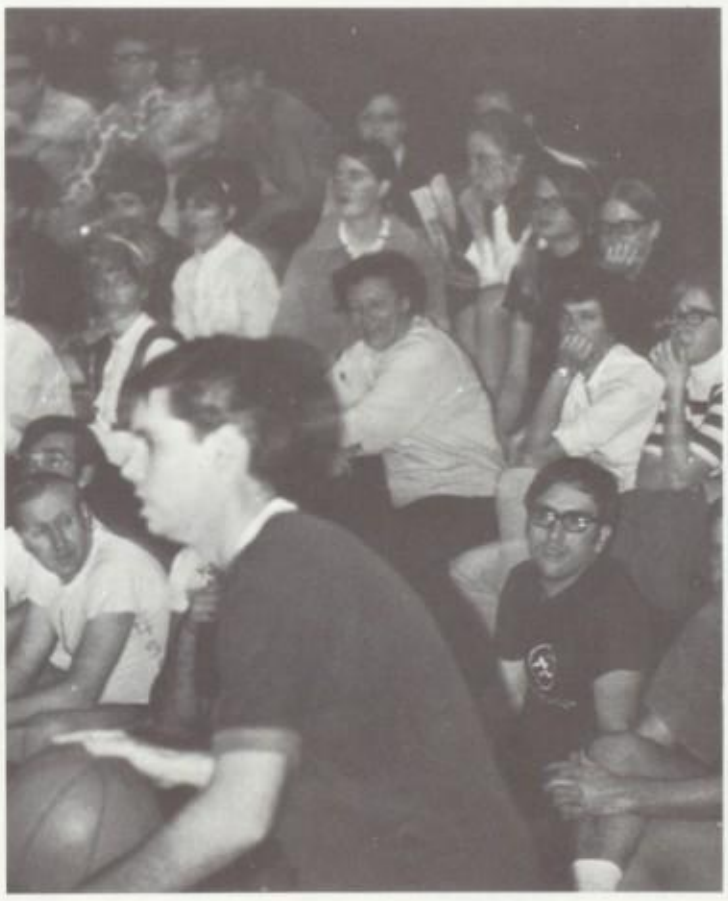
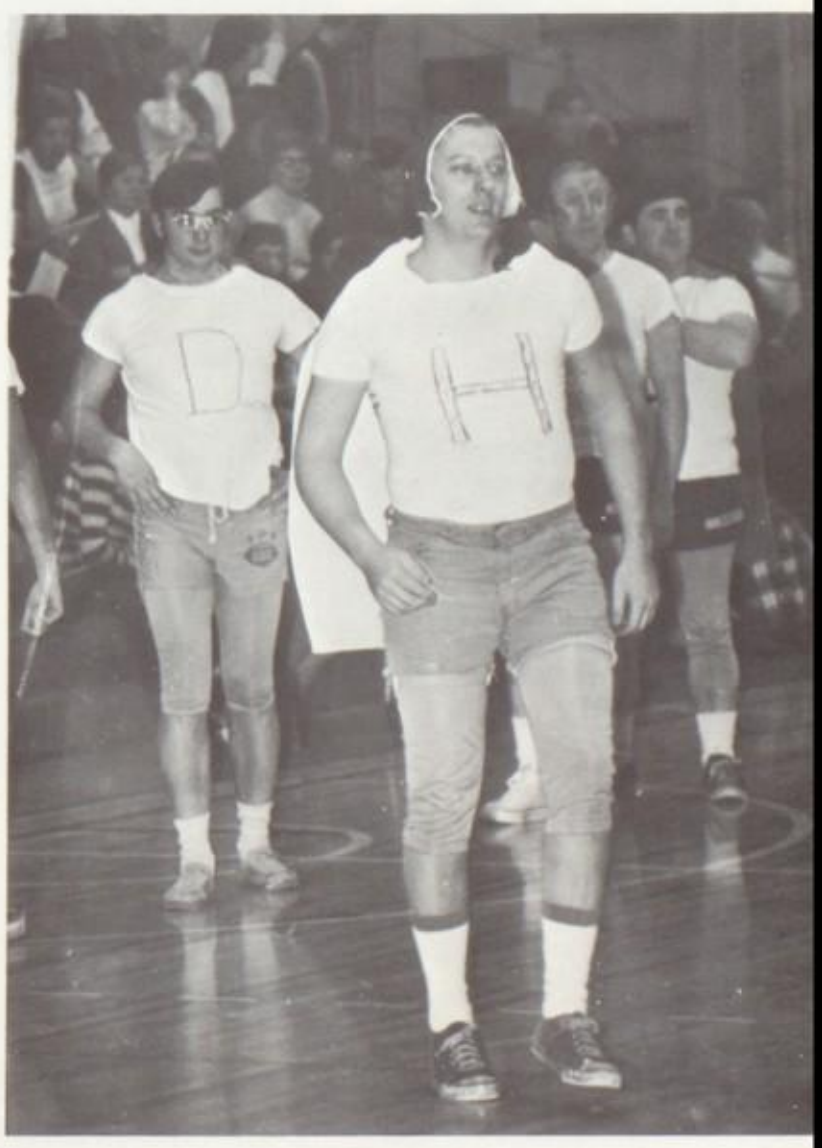
FACULTY FARCE





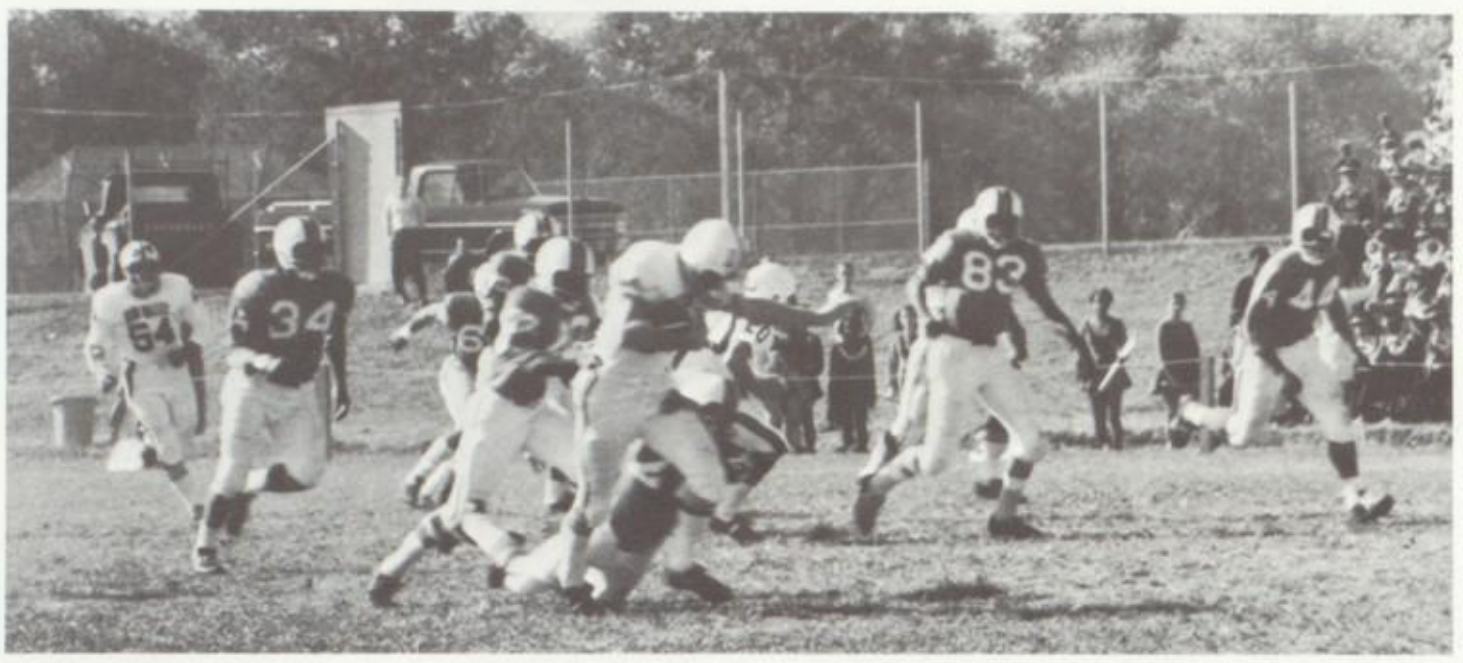






EVEN THE BAD TIMES ARE GOOD!!

The season wasn't much; but, ya shoulda seen the party.



Hey, Hey, Hey . . . Love to play football!!

. . . and a soccer ball is shaped like this!

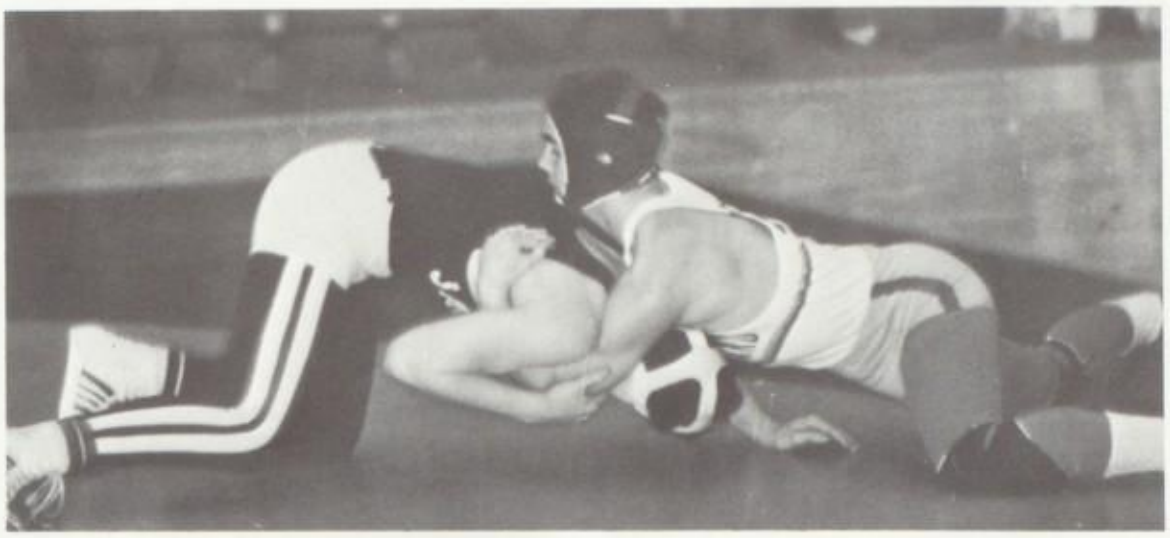
Hold the Bus!!

I Did, I Did!!

They're

playing us??

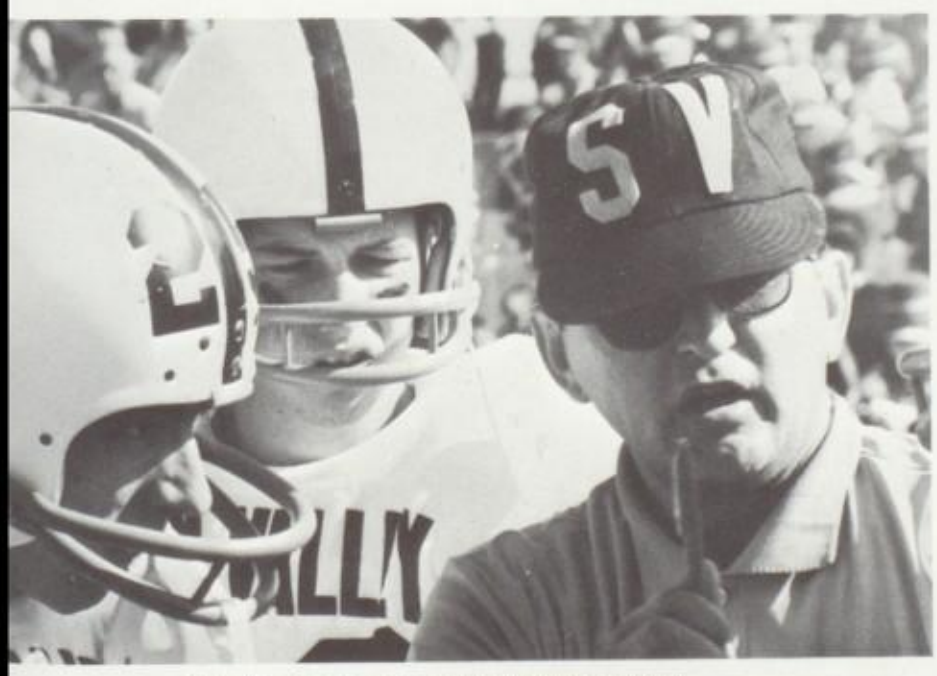
Kill it before it multiplies.



Cut that out; the coach is watchin'.

and Miss Sun Valley is . . .

Big Brother sees all!!



Chickenman, keep your claws off my Parker.

Do they really need barbed wire??

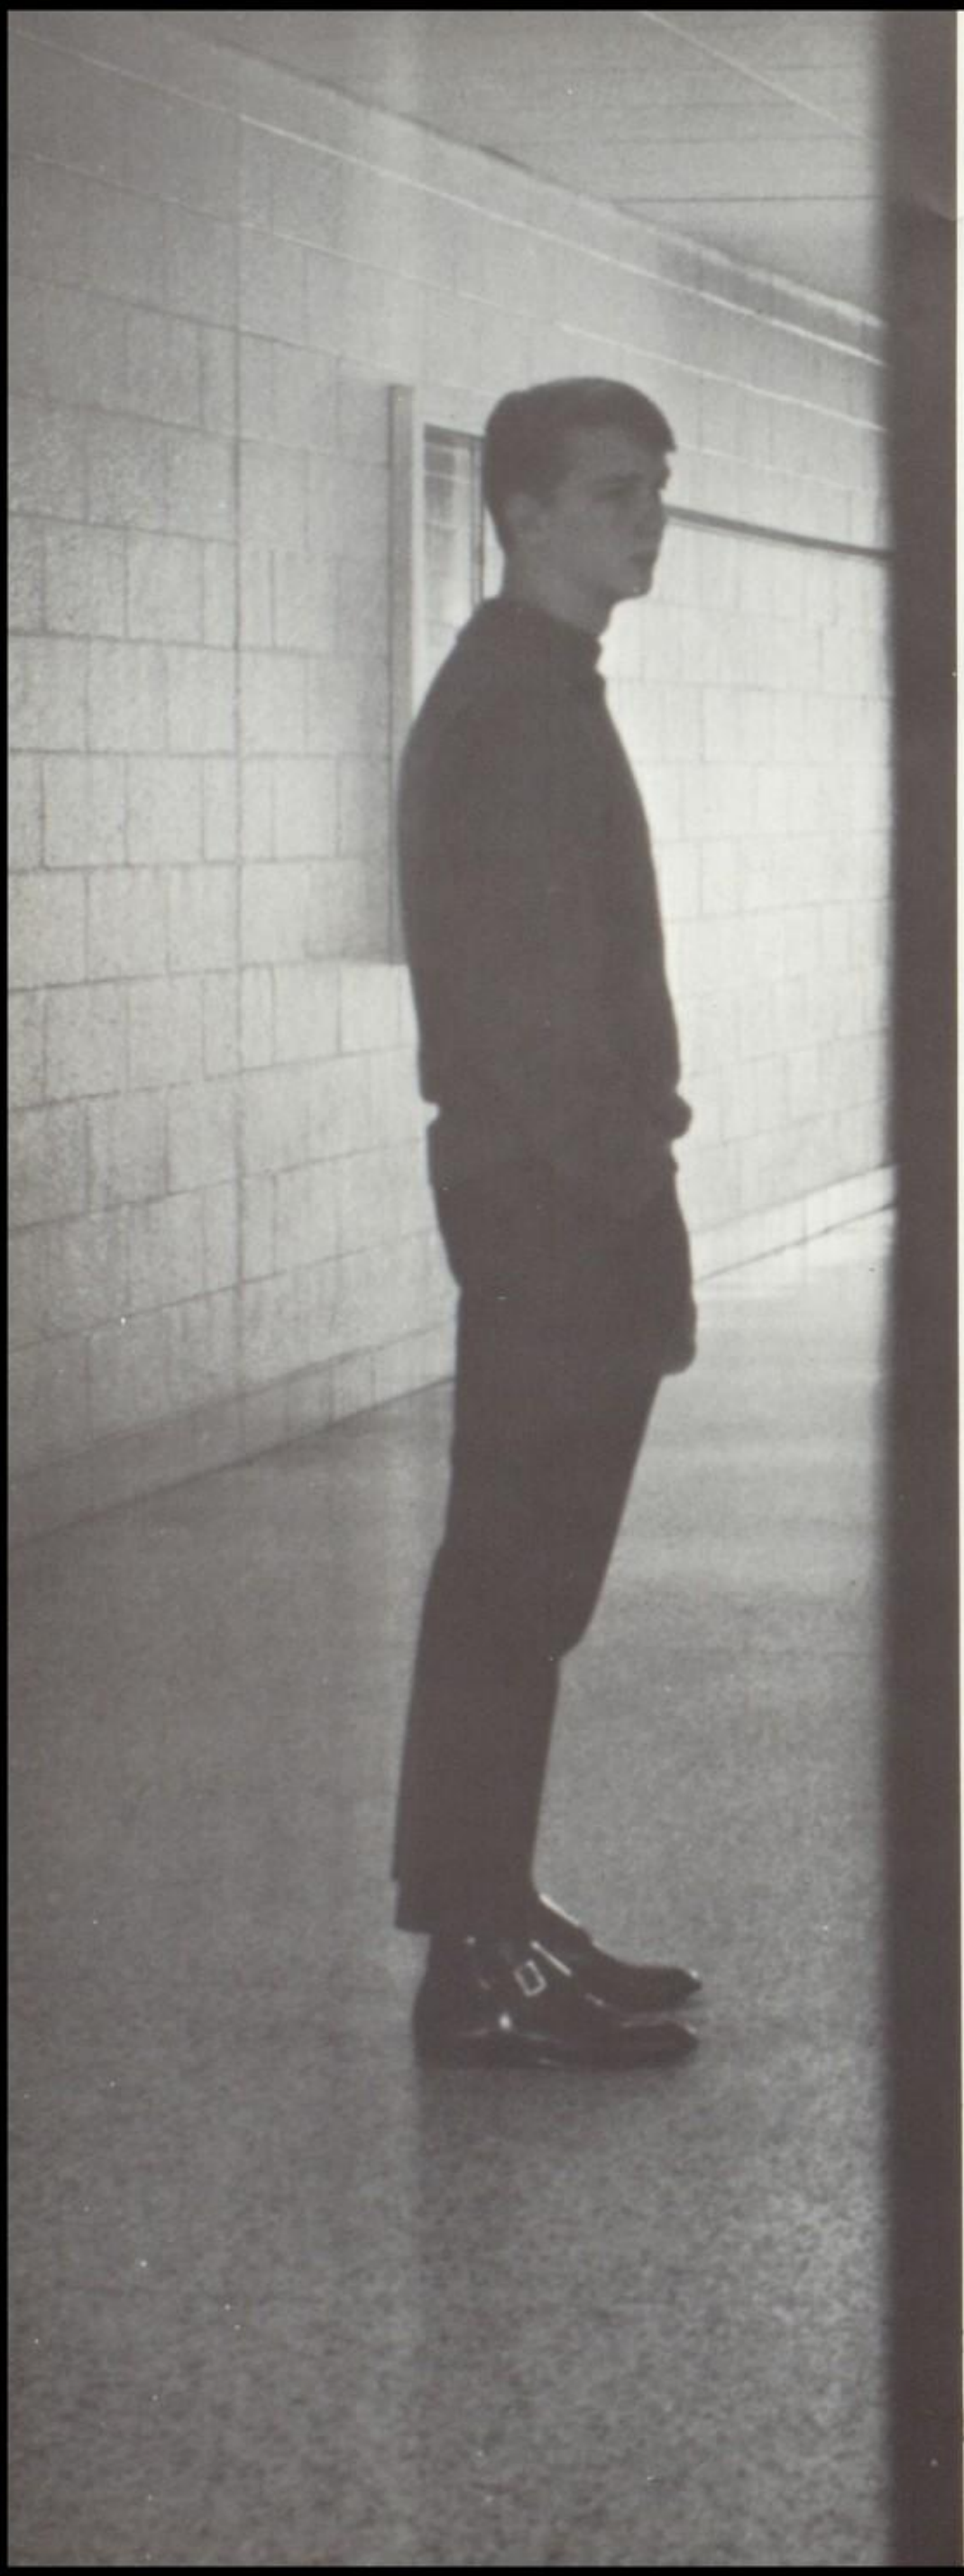
No you can't hold my hand for a quarter!

Activities and Organizations

Here they come; Yeah, Well, Some are laughing, some are crying.

Here they come; Some are doing, Some are trying . . .

Demanding recognition, one by one!



people; young people, you and me . . .

life . . .
going on all around us;
we are a part of it,
we move with it,
and it exists only through our willingness to think and act.

involvement . . .
a warm word speaks of times past and present;
hours of discussion,
reaction,
work.

the thrill of finding yourself caught up
in something larger than yourself;
like being inside a moving box;
the satisfaction of feeling yourself
part of the whole thing;
a movement with its own problems and promise.

fulfillment . . .
laughing together,
and crying together;
getting frustrated and angry together;
getting together.
and what can be better than being together?

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The purpose of the National Honor Society is to recognize those students who are outstanding in the areas of scholarship, leadership, service, and character. Members must maintain at least a B average throughout the school year.

One of Honor Society's activities this year was for members to act as hosts and hostesses to visitors to the school and maintain the guest register.

PEP CLUB

The main purpose of a Pep Club is to instill school spirit in the students so that everyone whether involved in sports, clubs, activities, or academic achievement can work together efficiently. Sun Valley's Pep Club promotes this spirit in several ways. The Club sponsors the Griffin, the school's mascot, and helps in the planning and presenting of pep rallies. They are also our team's biggest and loudest supporters at the games.

For many months, under the eagle-eye of Miss Marguerite Dougherty, the Spectrum staff of dedicated seniors (and underclassmen) have been striving toward their anticipated goal. The late nights, short study halls, and the exhausted weekends were only small examples of the loyalty and responsibility exhibited by the staff; the results of which you now hold in your hands: The 1970 Spectrum — a profile of a year, portrait of a school, and a picture of a student body who were more than mere students.

A WORD OF THANKS

You hold in your hands the 1970 Spectrum, the end result of many hours of collective work, concern, and hope on the part of many people. In the midst of the threatening deadlines, countless layouts, and inevitable decisions, there has been a group of individuals who have stood by the yearbook and seen the work through to its completion.

Our special thanks go to Miss Marguerite Dougherty, the staff's sponsor, spiritual advisor, and all-around trouble-shooter; Mr. William O'Brien, who has acted as liaison between the Spectrum and the American Yearbook Company; Mr. Kenneth Miller, for the use of the darkroom and help with the photography staff; Zamsky Studios, responsible for the senior portraits; and Mrs. Daniels, who "Graced" the senior superlative pictures for most talkative and most quiet. We would also like to acknowledge the administration and faculty, numerous friends and patrons, and people we don't know from Adam for their cooperation, encouragement, and assistance in this endeavor.

To all those who have been named and to those whom time and space prevent mentioning, thanks again.

THE RETAIL STORE EMPLOYEES UNION

Local No. 1349

RETAIL CLERKS INTERNATIONAL ASSOCIATION

The International Union Dedicated solely to the welfare of Retail Employees — Six Hundred Thousand (600,000) strong.

It pays to belong as can be attested to by the thousands of high school and college students, past, present, and future — who have and will work in Retail Stores under contract with our Union. Part-time employees receive up to three (3.00) dollars per hour, paid vacations, paid holidays, paid sick leave, free eye care, (examination and glasses), prescription drug credit card which entitles them to any prescription prescribed by their doctor for the nominal fee of fifty cents per prescription and many other benefits.

We are proud to be able to help these young people further their educations and wish them one and all a successful and productive future in this great nation of ours.

Here we come; Some with joy and some with sorrow.
Here we come; Now we're ready for tomorrow!
We're comin' out of hiding one by one!
